

Davidsons in Aberdeen & North East Scotland

A Davidson Trail

© Clan Davidson Association 2008

The Davidsons have a long history and many family connections with this region of Scotland. Both men and women of the Davidson name have left their mark in almost every walk of life:

- On the land as Landowners, Farmers and Crofters
- At Sea as Ship Owners, Shipmasters, Sailors, and Fisherfolk
- In the Church
- As Civic leaders
- In the Arts as Musicians, Painters, Potters, Teachers and Writers
- In the field of Architecture and Building
- As Inventors and Industrialists
- In the field of Medicine
- As Advocates
- As Emigrants to the four corners of the World

This Trail attempts to illustrate some of the stories and personalities from across the region, both historical and from more modern times. In reality this is just a fragment of family history which we hope will provide some fascinating insights into the contributions Davidsons have made to this region.

We would like to acknowledge the Clan Davidson members who have ancestors from amongst these families, and who have contributed with their family history and photographs for this project.
